Procurement Laws

Full Description

World Bank Guidance

The World Bank has developed a series of policies and procedures governing procurement and selection of consultants in Bank-financed projects. The latest Procurement Guidelines under IBRD Loans and IDA Credits & Grants was issued in January 2011.

World Bank has developed a methodology for assessing a country's procurement system, together with suggestions for updating and modifying a system, which can be found at Assessment of Procurement System. See also Benchmarking Public Procurement 2015, a pilot report assessing public procurement systems in 10 economies.

A complete list of standard, sample, and trial documents have been prepared by the World Bank can be found here.

The World Bank has also developed a guidance note on drafting public procurement regulations: Drafting Public Procurement Regulations - English version. Drafting Public Procurement Regulations - French version

In addition to this, the World Bank Procurement Department has produced a Draft Model of Procurement Laws for Francophone Countries (french - pdf).

Further information on World Bank procurement policy can be found on the World Bank Procurement Website.

UNCITRAL Guidance

Another useful source of guidance in this area, specifically related to procurement in infrastructure projects, is UNCITRAL – Legislative Guide on Privately finance Infrastructure Projects, 2001, in Chapter III and Recommendations 14 to 29. This provides guidance and draft legislative provisions. This can also be found in different languages on the UNCITRAL website. There is also UNCITRAL Model Law and guidance on Public Procurement, 2011 on general public procurement.

Samples of Procurement Legislation and Regulations

International / regional organizations:

United Nations Procurement Capacity Development Center, a global knowledge pool supported by UN providing information related to public procurement, including legislation, manual, assessment, etc.

European Union

Three directives were passed in 2014 (which will come into force in member states by April 2016 at the latest) as a package of legal acts designed to modernize public procurement rules across the European Union (EU). The reforms will allow public authorities to optimize their use of public procurement. Public contracts that are covered by the European directives are valued at around EUR 420 billion, making it a key driver of the EU economy.

The water, energy, transport and postal services sectors are excluded from directive 2014/24/EU. Instead, they are regulated by Directive 2014/25/EU.

Procurement of concession contracts is governed by EU Directive 2014/23/EU on Award of concession contracts. Concessions are defined as contracts for pecuniary interest by means of which one or more contracting authorities or contracting entities entrusts the execution of works, or the provision and the management of services, to one or more economic operators. The consideration for the works or services consists in the right to exploit the works or services or that right together with payment. The right to exploit the works or services implies the transfer to the concessionaire of an operating risk of economic nature involving in particular, the possibility that the concessionaire will not recoup the investments made. Therefore this would cover a broad range of PPPs.

Earlier documents, which are still relevant until these directives come into force in 2016 include:

- Rules applicable to Institutionalised Public-Private Partnerships (IPPP), with an interpretative communication in 2008.
- 2004 Green Paper on public-private partnerships
- Mobilising private and public investment for recovery and long term structural change: developing Public Private Partnerships

OECD procurement page, with links to national procurement authorities in European countries.

Government procurement page developed by the WTO

Procurement page developed by the EBRD

National:

Public Procurement 2015 - International Comparative Legal Guides (ICLG), 7th edition, December 2014. This online resource and publication contains a general outline and information on relevant laws in 29 jurisdictions. Areas of law covered include privatizations and public-private partnerships.

The Public Procurement Multi-jurisdictional Guide is an online resource and provides practical analysis of topical cross-border issues and country-specific Q&A guides on public procurement law and practice worldwide. The Q&A guide aims to give a structured overview of the key practical issues including, for example, the applicable legislation, the regulation of concessions and PPPs and recent trends.

Africa’s public procurement and entrepeneurship research initiative has links to laws and procurement authorities in North Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa

Related Content
Legal and Regulatory Issues Concerning PPPs
Legal Framework/ Enabling Environment Assessment for PPPs
Legislation and Laws - General and Sector Specific
Regulation of Sectors and Regulatory Issues Impacting PPPs
PPP Units Around the World
Additional Resources
Procurement Processes and Bidding Documents
Standardized Agreements, Bidding Documents and Guidance Manuals