The Guidance aims at assisting government officials, particularly those in emerging PPP markets, with obtaining a better understanding of a number of selected provisions that are typically encountered in PPP agreements.

It builds on the contents of its previous 2015 edition while including new subjects such as detailed commentaries on key aspects for contracting authorities in regard to different levels of PPP transactional experience in a given country or different legal systems. With the support of the Global Infrastructure Facility (GIF), the Guidance now also comprises two additional chapters that address contractual considerations related specifically to bond financed and corporately financed PPP transactions.
