FIRST SCHEDULE
(Sections 3 and 4)

INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS AND FACILITIES

The following public private partnership arrangements with their variations and combinations may be entered into by the Unit or contracting authority for undertaking any project. The arrangements enumerated in this Schedule are indicative in nature and the Unit or contracting authority may evolve and arrive at such agreement or arrangement incorporating any of the arrangement enumerated hereinafter or any other arrangements as are necessary or expedient for any specific project:

1. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire undertakes the financing and construction of a given project and after its completion hands it over to the Government or a contracting authority. The Government or the contracting authority would reimburse the total project investment, on the basis of an agreed schedule. This arrangement may be employed in the construction of any project, including critical facilities, which for security or strategic reasons must be operated directly by the contracting authority.

2. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire undertakes to finance and construct any project and upon its completion hands it over to the Government or a contracting authority concerned on a lease arrangement for a fixed period, after which ownership of the project is automatically transferred to the Government or the contracting authority concerned.

3. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire undertakes the construction, including financing, of a given infrastructure facility, and the operation and maintenance thereof. The concessionaire operates the facility over a fixed term during which the concessionaire is allowed to collect user levies fees, rentals and other charges not exceeding those proposed in the bid or as negotiated and incorporated in the agreement or regulations to enable the recovery of the investment in the project. The concessionaire transfers the project to the Government or the contracting authority concerned at the end of the fixed term that shall be specified in the agreement. This shall include a supply and operate situation which is a contractual arrangement whereby the supplier of equipment and machinery for a given project, if the interest of the Government or the contracting authority so requires, operates the facility providing in the process technology transfer. and training to Government, regulatory agency or the contracting authority nominated individuals.

4. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire is authorised to finance, construct, own, operate and maintain a project from which the concessionaire is allowed to recover this total investment by collecting user levies. Under the project, the concessionaire owns the assets of the project and may choose to assign its operation and maintenance to a project operator. The transfer of the project to the Government or the contracting authority is not envisaged in this structure. However, the Government or contracting authority may terminate its obligations after specified time period.

5. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire is authorised to finance, construct, maintain and operate a project and whereby the project is to vest in the concessionaire for a specific period. During the operation period, the concessionaire will be permitted to charge user levies specified in the agreement, to recover the investment made in the project. The concessionaire is liable to transfer the project to the Government or the contracting authority after the expiry of the specified period of operation.

6. A contractual arrangement whereby the Government or a contracting authority contracts out a project to a concessionaire to construct the facility on a turn key basis, assuming costs overruns, delays and specified performance risks. Once the facility is commissioned satisfactorily, the concessionaire is given the right to operate the project and collect user levies under an agreement. The title of the project always vests with the Government or the contracting authority in this arrangement.

7. A contractual arrangement whereby the concessionaire adds to an existing project which it rents from the Government or a contracting authority and operates the expanded project and collects user’s levies, to recover the investment over an agreed franchise period. There may or may not be a transfer arrangement with regard to the added facility provided by the concessionaire.

8. A contractual arrangement whereby favorable conditions external to a new project which is to be built by a concessionaire are integrated into the BOT arrangement by giving that entity the right to develop adjoining property and thus, enjoy some of the benefits the investment creates such as higher property or rent values.
9. A contractual arrangement whereby any existing facility is handed over to the private sector to refurbish, operate and collect user levies in the operation period to recover the investment and maintain for a franchise period, at the expiry of which the facility is turned over to the Government or a contracting authority. The term is also used to describe the purchase of an existing facility from abroad, importing, refurbishing, erecting and consuming it within the host country.

10. A contractual arrangement whereby an existing facility is handed over to the concessionaire to refurbish and operate with no time limitation imposed on ownership. As long as the concessionaire is not in violation of its franchise, it can continue to operate the facility and collect user levies in perpetuity.

11. A contractual arrangement whereby a concessionaire undertakes to finance, construct, operate and maintain a project and whereby such project is to vest in the concessionaire for a specified period. During the period of operation of the project, the concessionaire may be permitted to charge user charges as specified.

12. A contractual arrangement whereby the Government or a contracting authority leases a project owned by the Government to the person who is permitted to operate and maintain the project for the period specified in the agreement and to charge user charges therefor.

13. A contractual arrangement whereby the Government or a contracting authority entrusts the operation and management of a project to a person for the period specified in the agreement on payment of specified consideration. In such agreement, the Government or the contracting authority may charge the user charges and collect the same either itself or entrust the collection, for consideration, to any person who shall after collecting the user charges pay the same to the Government or the contracting authority.

14. A contractual arrangement whereby an existing project is vested in a person to renovate, operate and maintain. The concessionaire shall be permitted to charge levies as specified in the agreement.

15. A contractual arrangement whereby a person undertakes to provide services to the Government or contracting authority for a period. The Government or the contracting authority shall pay the person an amount according to the agreed schedule.
16. A contractual arrangement whereby a person supplies to the Government or a contracting authority the equipment and machinery for a project and undertakes to operate the project for a period and consideration specified in the agreement. During the operation of the project, the person shall undertake to train employees of the Government or contracting authority to operate the project.
